$250,000,000 FOR RELIEF

Gain Of 3,000,000 Jobless In 3 Months Estimated In Request For New Funds

By LYLE C. WILSON

United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP) — President Roosevelt today estimated 3,000,000 persons have lost their jobs in the past three months and asked Congress for $250,000,000 additional work relief funds to be spent between now and June 30.

The President's request, contained in a letter to Speaker of the House, William B. Bankhead, would increase relief expenditures for the fiscal year to a total of $2,009,000,000 and left the prospective deficit from $1,088,100,000 to $1,338,100,000.

Mr. Roosevelt said the new WPA funds would enable the administration to continue the present 1,950,000 persons on WPA rolls and afford "a reasonable measure of relief for those who have recently become unemployed and are in need."

The President's estimate of a 3,000,000 boost in jobless rolls due to business recession was his first authoritative statement of the effects of the economic setback on the nation's employment situation.

The President pointed out that the relief funds presently available, permit employment of an average of 1,700,000 persons throughout the fiscal year.

Secretary of the Treasury, Henry Morgenthau, Jr., said there would be no change in the treasury's financing plans between now and March 15, as a result of President Roosevelt's request for additional relief funds.

The financing program, for the present, provides for the borrowing of $200,000,000 to $300,000,000 through weekly bill offerings of $50,000,000 each. These offerings will begin February 28.

Public Meeting Being Planned At Sacramento Feb. 22 Under Extension Service Auspices

Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, will be a Sacramento visitor on Tuesday, February 22, and a public meeting at which he will be a speaker is being planned by the Agricultural Extension Service.

The time and place of the meeting will be announced later.

According to word received by Farm Advisor Ivan Lilley, the meeting will also be addressed by H. R. Tolley, Administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, and by George E. Farrell, western director of the AAA.

It is believed that the meeting will be of special interest to those who have been participating in the program carried out by the various county and district Agricultural Conservation Associations and it is hoped that there will be a number of El Dorado County farmers who will take advantage of the opportunity to hear the Secretary's remarks, and to hear the discussions by Mr. Tolley and Mr. Farrell.

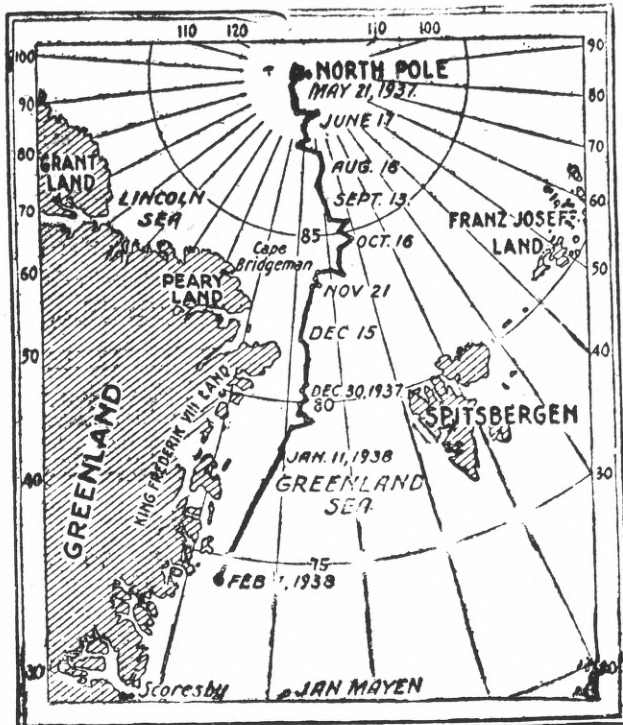

BLAIR'S P. T. A. TO KEEP FOUNDERS' DAY IN PROGRAM FRIDAY

AUKUM COUPLE WED FIFTY YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Burns Kept Anniversary Sunday At Their Residence

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Burns, was the scene of a happy gathering of relatives and other friends on Sunday to celebrate the fiftieth wedding anniversary of the couple who were wed on February 6th, 1888, at the home of the bride's parents, in Shenandoah Valley.

The event was arranged as a surprise for Mr. and Mrs. Burns by their niece, Mrs. Alva Ball, of San Francisco. The day was happily spent in visiting and games and there was a lovely dinner.

"I wish you'd tell everyone how much we appreciate the many beautiful presents and all the cards that we received," said Mr. Burns, who was in town on Tuesday. "We didn't realize that we had so many thoughtful friends."

Mrs. Burns was born Sarah Crain, at Shenandoah Valley more than 81 years ago. She was a daughter of Andrew Jackson Crain and Mrs. Susan P. Bell Crain, who came across the plains from the Middle West to California in the early '50s.

Mr. Burns is a native of New York state who came to California with his parents as a child of two years. They route was across the Isthmus of Panama.

"I built our home before we were married," he said. "Then, we were married on Sunday at the Crain home, and after it was all over we went out and got in the buggy and went to our home."

Mr. and Mrs. Burns have lived at Aukum almost all their married life. He in earlier life, engaged in stock raising and general ranching.

The golden anniversary celebration was shared by approximately twenty-five relatives and other friends who departed at the close of the day after extending good wishes befitting the occasion.

Belatedly but none the less sincerely, we add our wishes to the chorus.

Troop 57 Visited By Parents, Friends

By CHARLES IRISH

On Wednesday night, Troop 57, Boy Scouts, held "open house" in observance of Anniversary Week. Several parents and friends came during the meeting and also after the meeting. We had a good return from the sale of tickets to the Fathers' and Sons' banquet.

Under new business we had the reports of the patrol hikes. Everyone had a "swell" time. After new and old business, we had patrol corners. All patrols have decided to go on hikes as soon as we have clear weather.

We all wish to thank the P. G. & E. Company and Max Baer for wood which they have given for the Scouts. Don't forget the Fathers' and Sons' banquet and the Court of Honor on Friday night.

FATHERS AND SONS DINNER FRIDAY

Boy Scout Anniversary Week Reaches Climax In Honor Court Following Supper

Observance of the 28th national Boy Scout Anniversary Week in El Dorado County reaches a climax Friday night with the annual Fathers' and Sons' dinner and district Boy Scout Court of Honor, to be held at the Federated Church.

The dinner is for men and boys, and any man who does not have a "son" for the evening will be able to "borrow" a boy at the church shortly before the dinner, which will be served at 6:30 o'clock.

The mothers of Boy Scout are especially invited by the district committee to attend the Court of Honor, which will convene in the church auditorium about 8 o'clock.

Twenty-two boys will receive the Tenderfoot award and 58 others will be advanced in rank during the evening, in addition to those who have qualified for various merit badges. Loren Dahl, who last year received the Eagle Scout award with bronze palms, this year has qualified for the gold palms and has the leading rank of any Boy Scout in the county.

The county observance of Boy Scout Anniversary Week opened on Sunday with services at the Federated Church in the morning, conducted by the Rev. Harold Morehouse. Approximately 60 Boy Scouts and their leaders attended the service.

All Boy Scout troop meetings have held "open house" during the week and an "open house" will feature the meetings Thursday night of the troops at Camino, at Diamond Springs, and in Placerville.

Max Baer, a member of the district Boy Scout committee, has observed the week by installing a Boy Scout display in the window of his store, as is his annual custom.

NEW OFFICE FOR HIGHWAY PATROL

Building Being Erected On Broadway; Will Be Ready For Occupancy May 1st

The El Dorado County squad of the California Highway Patrol will move about May 1st from its present headquarters opposite the Ivy Hotel on Main Street to a new building now being erected by Dante Bacoccini, on Broadway.

It was learned during the week that the lease on the property was signed by Bacoccini and the Department of Motor Vehicles about two weeks ago. The owner has let a contract to R. A. Black for erection of the building.

Plans provide for a building to house a highway patrol garage, measuring 18 feet by 36 feet, and with space for a main office, Captain's office, squad room and lavatories.

The building will be heated by an oil furnace and the exterior design will be in the "moderne" design.

The patrol has been located in its present quarters for about three years, and during that time the patrol's motorcycles and automobiles have been stored in the adjoining Frey Garage when not in use. In addition to being larger and more commodious, the new headquarters will give the state housing for its own cars.

CANNING PEAR AGREEMENT TO BE AIRED ON MONDAY NIGHT

The proposed agreement by which Bartlett pears below the grade of U. S. No. 2 may be prevented from going to canneries will be explained at a meeting of pear growers at the court house in Placerville on Monday night, February 14, the 7:30 o'clock.

We understand that two-thirds of the growers representing fifty-one per cent of the acreage must sign petitions to make the agreement possible.

Roy Wrinkle, secretary of the Canning Bartlett Pear Control Committee, will be among the officials present to explain the proposed agreement and answer questions.

It is hoped that there will be a large attendance of growers so that they may gain at first hand a full understanding of the proposal and express their preferences concerning it.

FIREMEN TO FETE ANNIVERSARY

85th Birthday In Placerville... Department To Be Observed At Dance On Saturday Night

Members and friends of the Placerville Volunteer Fire Department will celebrate the 85th anniversary of the organization at the annual dance on Saturday night at the I. O. O. F. hall.

Arrangements for the event are complete, according to Aubrey Warren, general chairman, and the advance sale of tickets promises the usual large attendance. It is reported by Ellis Vennetitz, secretary.

Music for the evening will be provided by Red's Rhythm Rascals.

The net proceeds of the department's annual dance go to a fund to replace the clothing of members which is lost or damaged in line of duty, and to the department's social fund.

The annual dance is welcomed by the property holders of Placerville as an opportunity to show their appreciation for the work of the volunteer department during the year. Friends, who have not yet obtained their tickets, may get them from the department secretary, or may obtain them at the door on the night of the dance.

NEW RESIDENCE OPEN FOR PUBLIC INSPECTION ON SUNDAY

Sunday, February 13th, George A. Cole, contractor and builder, will open for public inspection another new modern stucco home in Bungalow Terrace subdivision, also known as the Pierce tract. The home is located on Elm Avenue, opposite the house that was designated the community's model home in 1935. Inspection hours are 10 to 5 and 6 to 8 p. m.

This is the third home Mr. Cole has built in this one tract, others being the Sid Price home and the home now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Strum. The new home has a modernistic floor plan, with five rooms on the street level and a social hall and a garage in the basement.

Venetian blinds are on all windows with hardwood floors throughout. Bathroom, kitchen, and breakfast room floors have all been covered with linoleum. Tile drain boards, indirect lighting fixtures, door chimes, kitchen cabinets streamlined with chromium hardware, knotty pine walls in breakfast room, and a pipe furnace are included in the many things of modern construction.

The exterior is of white stucco, with cedar shingle for roofing. The front of the house is attractively set off with a streamlined front porch with iron railing.

Placerville Youths Aid Berkeley Police

Don and Allan Goodrich, and Bill Henderson, who are attending the University at Berkeley, helped the Berkeley police track down and capture a burglar suspect early Monday morning, according to Bay papers of Tuesday.

In addition to mentioning the trio, the paper also mentions a "Bernard Ball" whom, we suspect, was another Placerville boy, James Ball, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ball.

Whether this be true or not, Don and Allan are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Don Goodrich, of Placerville, and Bill Henderson, if we mistake not, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Henderson, of Diamond Springs.

Suit was on file in Superior Court Thursday in behalf of John E. Plank against Emily Pletzt, claiming $761 as owing for salary.

STORM KILLS 6 IN STATE

Huge Property Loss Feared; Gales And Rain Sweep Inland Over All California

With communication facilities throughout the state disrupted by the most violent winds in years, early reports today from the United Press reported six dead, scores injured and a staggering property loss throughout the state.

Early forecasts indicated the storm has spent its force and milder weather was predicted for today and tomorrow over most of the state although a continuance of "occasional showers" is forecast.

Reports from Sacramento estimated the damage there at $2,000,000 as a result of the unroofing of various buildings, the crushing of residences by falling trees, and the accompanying interruption of electric power and telephone facilities.

Similar reports with proportionate damage came from the Bay area while throughout the length of the state the storm struck with varying degrees of violence.

Some United Press reports from various communities follow:

MERCED—Pedestrians were injured by flying debris. Court house windows were smashed, injuring two persons.

BAKERSFIELD—Twenty oil derricks were blown down.

MODESTO—A church was destroyed by fire. The roofs of several buildings of the Stockton Box Factory were blown off. The transmitting tower of the Turlock police station was blown down, leaving the city without emergency radio facilities.

FRESNO—Two women narrowly escaped death when a large tree crushed their house. The roof of the large Fresno meat packing company factory was blown off.

BELLEVIEW—A tree was blown into (Turn to page 3)

Firemen worked throughout the night extricating people from collapsed buildings. Scores of families were left homeless.

Some streets were transformed into streams six feet deep by the torrential rain. Household furnishings were swept away. Basements and lower floors of many commercial houses in the downtown district were inundated.

GETTING STEAMED UP

Winter Vitamins

An ideal way to work fresh fruits and vegetables into the diet is through salads. There is no set recipe for a salad. Many ingredients, which never have been tried before, might make delightful salads. Try grated raw carrots and bananas or apples together. Pickles, lettuce, celery, olives, all finely cut and held together in a gelatin mold, is another suggestion.

Dried fruits and nuts, delicious and nutritious, may be added to any salad recipe. Use cooked prunes and dried dates, or raisins and figs. Lemon juice, to give tang to the salad, and segments of grapefruit and oranges yield the desirable citrus content to the diet. Left-over bits of canned fruit and vegetables are always welcome additions; as peaches, pears, pineapple, apricots, corn, beans, peas and asparagus. Pimientos and mangoes, finely minced, will add color and flavor. As an old standby, there is nothing better than cabbage, which may be served raw as coleslaw, with salad dressing, or with vinegar, salt and sugar.

Fruit and vegetable juices, either "straight" or mixed, make good drinks for breakfast or as "curtain raisers" for any meal. A touch of lemon juice removes the insipidity of blend fruits and brings out the flavor of all fruits and vegetables. Serve fruit juices in dainty glasses and attractively, perhaps with a small cookie accompaniment, on a pretty plate. Even sauerkraut juice has become recognized as a valuable drink and is served in high society as a great delicacy.

The fruit cocktail, simply a combination of fruits served very cold as the first course of a meal, is another method of feeding the family needed mineral salts and vitamins. A dish of fruit sitting conveniently and temptingly about it is a lure to induce the family to eat its apple a day to keep the doctor away, or its grapes, banana or orange.

The Fireplace

Many families have a fire in the fireplace on a cold evening, to make the living room warmer than other rooms in the house, or to save the extra furnace fire needed when the temperature grows lower, toward night. The open fire not only provides additional warmth, but it has a spiritual value in promoting cheer and fellowship.

The chimney of the fireplace is usually furnished with a damper. If this is left open, it plays a part in ventilating the room, as much stale house air will go up the chimney. If the weather is very cold, the draft becomes even greater, and it will be easier to keep the house warm if this damper is closed. If your fireplace does not have a damper, one may make a wooden panel to fit into the throat of the chimney.

To Cut Grapefruit

If you cut out the core of grapefruit and then run a knife around the fruit, as most housewives do, you'll eat portions of skin and spoil the flavor at every bite.

Remove the seeds with a nut pick, but do not disturb the core. With a small, sharp knife, loosen the fruit segments from the peel and separate membranes without cutting them. You can then scoop out the fruit with a spoon and get only the fine, juicy fruit.

Hot Water Bag

If your hot water bag has sprung a leak, do not throw it away. It may easily be mended so that it will last for quite awhile. Cut a piece of adhesive tape to cover the hole, warm it slightly and press it in place. It may be necessary to add another patch after a time. When the bag is no longer useful as such, cut off the end and use it as a receptacle for wet wash cloths when taking a trip. It will protect the contents of your suit case from their dampness.

Warm Feet

If you lie awake too long after you have retired, because you have cold feet, try the foot blanket, warmed over the radiator, or get yourself a pair of those new bed socks, which look for all the world like baby booties—multiplied in size by X.

Waxed Linoleum

After a linoleum has been waxed, it may be kept in condition by touching up, as needed, spots which show the most wear. The waxed linoleum may be swept or polished with a mop or washed with a damp mop wet in mild suds. After washing, the floor should receive another application of wax, which preserves the natural oil and lengthens the service of the linoleum.

Saint Valentine's Day

"Good Morrow! 'Tis Saint Valentine's day.

All in the morning bedtime." So sang Shakespeare's Ophelia and so have maids observed the day as especially devoted to lovers, ever since Ancient Egyptian times, away back almost to the dawn of civilization.

Good Saint Valentine, under various names in different nations, has been recognized by tradition as the guardian of shepherds. Because this festival came in the spring, the joyous mating time, lovers have appropriated this saint to themselves. Birds, dreams, wreaths of flowers, hearts, love songs and an infinity of superstitions have come to be associated with it.

"I early rose at break of day, Before the sun had chased the stars away.

Afield I went, amid the morning dew, To milk my kine—

For so should housewives do— The very first of all the swains we see.

In spite of fortune, shall our true love be."

Pie Crust

Mix a teaspoon of salt with a cup and a half of soft-wheat flour. With a knife and fork, work into it five or six tablespoons of fat. When the mixture is "grainy," add slowly about two and a half tablespoons of cold water. Use no more than enough to make a stiff dough.

On a lightly floured board, roll out half the dough into a thin sheet, large enough to line a pie-pan. Pat this lightly into the pan, that there may be no air bubbles underneath. Put in the pie filling and moisten the edges.

Roll out the remaining half of the dough for the top crust. Make a few slashes in it to permit the escape of steam. Lay it over the filling and press lightly around the edges with the tines of a fork. If the filling is juicy, wet a strip of clean cloth and fold it around the edge, both over and under the rim. This is to be pulled off when the pie is baked.

LUMBER PRICE SLASH FORECAST FOR FRESNO AREA

FRESNO, (UP) — Central California lumber prices will be slashed by as much as 10 per cent within the next two weeks, Bernard B. Barber, secretary of the San Joaquin valley lumbering club, predicted today.

Barber said the cut would be made by lumbermen to stimulate building activity under the liberalized federal housing act.

Pointing out that a downward price trend during the past 12 months has resulted in price cuts of 15 to 20 per cent, Barber declared that "additional reduction is expected to become effective soon."

200 Millions More For Relief Planned

WASHINGTON, (UP) — President Roosevelt will ask congress, probably this week, for a deficiency relief appropriation expected by authoritative sources to be $200,000,000 to $300,000,000.

Estimates on which the deficiency appropriation request will be based are being prepared by Mr. Roosevelt and will be submitted in a day or two, senate majority leader Alben W. Barkley said after a White House conference.

PROGRAMS WON'T WHISTLE

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., (UP) — No rustle of programs marred a Clef Club concert here. To insure quiet, the programs had been printed on blotting paper.

John Lopolo, veteran olive oil maker of Fresno, has built a fine new plant.

Suit has been filed against the Exeter Select Groves, Tulare County, for violating the rules regarding citrus shipments.

STORM DAMAGE FEARED HIGH

a passing train, injuring a woman.
PITTSBURGH—An 80-mile wind carried away almost all trees. Power services failed. Automobiles were damaged.

SAN MATEO—Power service failed and homes were lighted by candles. Many roofs were blown off.

ALBANY—An office building collapsed.

LOMITA PARK—Fallen trees blocked the highways.

BURLINGAME—Trees were carried away; automobiles and houses crushed. Southern Pacific trains were stalled.

MENLO PARK—A crew of 100 men was sent to clear railroad tracks.—trains were halted.

UKIAH—The barometer fell to 28.67, the lowest reading in 20 years. The wind reached 70 miles an hour.

SAN FRANCISCO—State highway patrol officers reported that the Golden Gate Bridge swayed approximately 12½ feet at its center during the gale that swept the bay region yesterday. Resident engineer Russell V. Cone said that the bridge was so constructed that it might swing 21 feet without danger to the structure.

LOS ANGELES—The storm which struck the Pacific coast gave a plane load of passengers a fast ride. Pilot Eddie Kleissig of United Airlines reported taking advantage of a high altitude gale and flying from Saugus to Bakersfield at an average of 400 miles an hour yesterday.

El Dorado County shared with other parts of Central California Wednesday and Thursday in a storm forecast as "the worst storm of the winter" and which seemed Thursday noon to be fulfilling the weather man's predictions.

Thursday it was impossible to calculate the damage done in El Dorado County owing to lack of complete information but various services agreed it would probably be "pretty high," but not at any figure approaching the losses in the lower country.

"It is the most violent storm I ever saw, and I've been here quite a while," declared J. G. Leonard, general line foreman of the approaching gales and rains, officers of the high school dismissed classes Wednesday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock for the balance of the week. This was to permit the pupils living in the rural county to reach their homes before dark, for the busses faced an uncertain journey over roads blocked in many places by fallen trees. Predicted violence of the storm made it advisable to abandon school for Thursday and Friday.

High school classes will resume Monday morning.

Watte County Superintendent of Schools E. J. Fitzgerald declared on Thursday morning that he feared the attendance at county schools was "pretty generally demoralized." Principal John H. Palmer of Placerville Grammar School announced classes are meeting regularly, but on a "rainy day" schedule which shortens the noon hour and dismisses pupils at 3 o'clock.

Telephone communication on rural lines out of Placerville, and to Sacramento, was interrupted Wednesday afternoon and had not been restored Thursday noon despite constant maintenance work. Telegraphic wires were down and the Western Union was endeavoring to use the amateur short-wave radio station of Charles Maylene for the sending of messages.

Electric power service suffered similar interruption in areas near Placerville, but the county seat, thanks to the work of line crews, had few interruptions in this service.

Placerville was virtually isolated from Wednesday afternoon until Thursday forenoon. The Wednesday evening train failed to arrive, and was reported to have turned back at Alder Creek, below Folsom. The Thursday morning mail arrived on schedule, by automobile.

Rainfall for the season, as will appear by reference to the accompanying precipitation table, was 28.47 inches up to noon Thursday, which is a quarter of an inch greater than the "normal" rainfall to March 1. The rain continues.

County roads generally were blocked by fallen trees Wednesday. The roads in the state system were cleared by highway maintenance crews, while Supervisors called their road men to clear county roads. Thursday morning, the state officials reported all state roads clear.

The gales of Wednesday afternoon did extensive damage throughout the county. Among the few instances of rural damage of which we have been advised was the damaging of a loading shed at the California Door plant at Diamond Springs.

Roy Marks of Missouri Flat reports his barn and all outbuildings were blown down. Mr. Marks had 2,500 turkey eggs in incubators when the electric power went off. Line crews worked frantically to restore service.

Clarence Wilkinson, of Coloma Road, reports unroofing of his barn.

Albert Simon, of Sacramento road, reports unroofing of his barn.

Albert Simon, of Sacramento Hill, reports the wind felled a large tree in his yard and tore shingles from the roof of his home doing damage estimated at $1,000.

Dr. D. W. Babcock's airplane hangar at Placerville Airport was blown about with the plane inside. Damage to the plane was estimated at $1,000. Lewis Beach, who was working in the hangar when the wind hit it, reports he "had to run to keep up with the hangar."

MICHIGAN'S WINTER QUEEN, ruling over the winter carnival which opened February 4 and closes February 13 at Petroskey, is Delphine Stackus, 16, of Boyne City high school. Immediately following her selection, the worst blizzard in many years swept the state, but Queen Delphine is ruling her court, just the same.

PARADE OF SPORTS

By HENRY McEMORE
United Press Staff Writer

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—If my eyes and ears are not up to some deceit (and I don't see why they should be—I have been like a father to them for years) the game of questions and answers has become tremendously popular of late.

Dial a radio and Professor Something-or-Other is wanting to know who invented fire plugs and what is the habitat of the bow-legged armadillo. Pick up a paper or magazine and you're sure to find a department where the readers are given questions to answer.

Always one to keep his column abreast of the times, I have decided to inaugurate a sports quiz. Every so often I will run off a series of questions and all my readers who can read are invited to see how many of them they can answer. Those who can't read—well, they're just lucky, that's all.

Whatever you do be sure and mail in your answers—not to me, of course, because I already know the answers and would be bored to death by the correct ones and annoyed by the incorrect ones. There will be prizes for one and all, just as soon as I am able to round up a rich sucker willing to fall for such an enterprise.

I hope to make first prize the Island of Madagascar, but that will depend largely on how the citizens of that island feel about a change of ownership. Right now—and I tell you confidentially—they're not in favor of the plan.

The rules of the contest are simple. Almost as simple as the questions, in fact. All answers must be written on both sides of the paper. Don't write legibly. Don't use ink. Only relatives or persons who are employed by my relatives are eligible. In case of a tie—but never mind that. Because if there's a tie I will change one of the answers and save a lot of bother.

Here is the first list of questions:

1. What were the names of the ponies in Tommy Hitchcock's 1928 polo string, and which one of them went on to become a prominent amateur athlete official?

2. What is the address of the tailor who pressed Bill Tilden's flannels before the 1927 Davis Cup matches, and what are his present prices for dry cleaning a woman's hat that has three ostrich plumes?

3. What was the name of the Yale bulldog mascot who was so severely criticized for endorsing a flea powder?

4. Who invented volley ball?

5. What do psychologists say causes a man to go in for cross-country running?

6. How many former national collegiate rope climbing champions are listed in who's who?

Bob Donnell, outside near the hangar, found refuge from the wind by laying flat on the ground.

Two large cedar trees at Union Cemetery were blown down.

8. What is the standard accepted recipe for cheese souffle?

9. Is it true that in an emergency midgeets can use badminton bats for snow shoes?

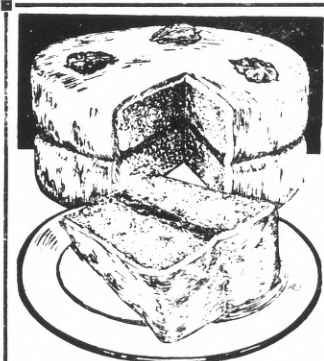

10. It is true that on his last birthday Man O' War blew out all the candles on his cake with one breath?

There were ten parties at as many different homes on Wednesday evening in the first of a series of "telephone contract bridge tournaments" conducted under the auspices of the American Legion Auxiliary. Mrs. Nettie Fornell held high score for the evening.

THREE GANGSTERS SOUGHT IN CHICAGO HEIGHTS KILLING

CHICAGO HEIGHTS, Ill. (UP)—State's attorney's, police searched among the remnants of Scarface Al Capone's gang, powerful during the prohibition heyday, in an attempt to track down three gunmen who used gangland's "handshake" technique to rub out Sam Costello, reputed head of a lucrative slot machine racket.

The executioners, disguised in hunting attire, invaded a Chicago Heights bakery yesterday and, with flourish reminiscent of the St. Valentine's Day Massacre in Chicago nine years ago, killed Costello and wounded three of his associates. The victim was a brother of Charles Costello, described by investigators as the "Capone of Chicago Heights."

When Sam died he wore a diamond studded belt buckle, the type Capone used to give his close friends.

WOMAN ESCAPES AS CAR HITS DITCH AT BREWSTERVILLE

Mrs. Ida Renas, of near Smith Flat, was treated at Placerville Sanatorium for cuts and bruises and then allowed to go to her home after her car, a light truck, plunged into the roadside ditch above Brewsterville Thursday.

Her car, which went off the road just above the junction of the state highway and the road to Smith Flat, was being towed from the ditch when cables broke and the car dropped back and was carried by the waters into the culvert which extends under the highway.

It was impossible to drag the car out of the culvert from the "upstream" side, but the machine was pulled through the culvert and hauled out on the "downstream" side.

Miss Elsie McNe of Camino, is reported as resting easily and showing every evidence of a complete recovery following an appendicitis operation performed Wednesday at Placerville Sanatorium.

The birth of a daughter, Anna Belle Arthur, to Mr. and Mrs. Percy W. O. Arthur, of Placerville, on February 6, was reported in a certificate filed on Thursday with Recorder Charles Marsh.

ACTIVE INTEREST SHOWN IN TERMS OF NEW HOUSING ACT

WASHINGTON, (UP)—Federal housing administrator Steward McDonald said today that telephone reports from all sections of the country indicates "a general revival of home building and modernization" under the administration's new housing program.

Reports from representatives in Los Angeles, New York, Chicago, Cleveland and points in Indiana, New York and Texas, McDonald said, show that the building is "meeting with very wide enthusiasm from lenders, buildings and real estate developers."

"I feel that by spring the effects of the act will be clearly noticed. The response exceeds our expectations," McDonald said.

Reports from the west coast are optimistic, the administrator said, adding that Los Angeles is the country's best "barometer" at this time of year because weather permits building to begin at once.

"If California's interest in housing moves east with the coming of spring, I will feel much encouraged," he said.

Wade's mother, Elizabeth, 54, died in the flames when her home was destroyed in September, 1935. His brother, Hugh, 32, and a sister, Elizabeth, 22, died of burns several days later.

HOUSE NAVAL AFFAIRS COMMITTEE MAY CALL N. Y. NEWS WRITER

WASHINGTON, (UP)—Rep. Ralph O. Brewster, R., Me., demanded today that Arthur Krock, New York Times correspondent, be summoned before the house naval affairs committee to tell the source of his information that the United States has a tacit naval understanding with Great Britain.

Brewster, reading from Krock's column of Feb. 9, quoted the Times writer as saying he had been "expertly informed that an understanding existed" but that it was on the type conveyed by "a wink or a nod" and not the kind that could be uncovered by a senate resolution.

"I demand," shouted Brewster, "that we call Mr. Krock before this committee to tell us where he gets this information that we cannot get."

"Are we mice or are we men?"

PRIVATE EXPLOITATION THREATENS FORESTS, SAYS WOODRING

WASHINGTON (UP)—The economic security and independence of many communities is threatened by private "exploitation" of forest lands, Secretary of War Harry Woodring today informed Congress in his annual report as president of the National Forest Reservation Commission.

The commission recommended the purchase of 148,000,000 acres of forest lands now in private ownership by state and federal governments as a "safeguard for the nation's forest resources."

Gangster Al Capone In Mental Collapse

SAN FRANCISCO, (UP)—Federal authorities decided today on the customary treatment for Scarface Al Capone, who was reported to have become a blithering maniac while serving the last year of his sentence at gloomy Alcatraz Island.

"No. 1" License Plates Much In Demand

WASHINGTON, (UP)—In only three states—Oregon, South Carolina and Iowa—does the plain citizen have an even chance of getting license plate No. 1 to dignify his car, according to a survey published by the American Automobile Association.

In Iowa, 99 "1" plates are distributed, going to the first applicant in each county. Early birds also get South Carolina's 40. In Oregon, the solitary "1" along with many other low numbers, is assigned by lot.

Twenty-one states baffle all aspirants to the coveted number by assigning it to the governor, and four others—New Hampshire, Pennsylvania, South Dakota and Utah—simply do not issue No. 1 plates.

NO DOWN PAYMENT FOR HOMES UNDER NEW HOUSING ACT

WASHINGTON (UP)—Federal housing administration officials said yesterday that provisions of the new housing act would permit insurance loans up to $2500 for qualified borrowers to build small homes without down payments and repay the loan over a ten year period.

Such loans, however, would be subject to strict regulation calling for sizeable security, proven repayment ability of the borrower and assurance that residences constructed under the loan meet certain standards of health and decency.
